Sea Search
Pushed For
Lost PlaneNavy Pilot Says
Signal Heard In Area Off Coast

LISBON (AP)—A U.S. Navy search plane today reported picking up a distress signal off Cape St. Vincent where a Portuguese flying boat is missing with 36 persons on board, including 6 Americans.

Lt. George Beaver, pilot of a rescue plane, reported hearing the signal but said it was so faint and garbled that he could not make it out.

Beaver said the message was picked up on the international distress frequency about 180 miles west of Cape St. Vincent on the southern tip of Portugal.

Sighted Off In Area

Beaver said he sighted oil in the area but long low sweeps over the tossing waves disclosed nothing more—no sign of wreckage or life rafts.

This was the spot where the pilot of a twin-engine Portuguese flying boat bound for the resort island of Madeira radioed he was making an emergency landing in sea at 1:20 p.m. Sunday, an hour after leaving Lisbon.

The Portuguese director of civil aviation, Vilor Veres, said in a statement early today that "although the most contradictory information is being spread... all that is known is that... (the plane) announced it was going to make an emergency landing."

The plane is believed to have gone down about 180 miles west of Cape St. Vincent, at the southern end of Portugal. It was on a flight from Cabo Ruivo Air Terminal at Lisbon to Funchal, a fashionable international resort in the Madeira Islands off the northwest shoulder of Africa.

The six Americans: Leon Lazarus-Kohlmann, New Orleans, president of a box manufacturing company, and his wife Jane; Louis Charles Slater, New Orleans, real estate salesman, and his wife Dorothy; Henry Hurd Renell, 74, Southport, Conn., retired secretary of the C. O. Jelliff Corp., of Southport, and George W. Long, 45, Far Eastern specialist for National Geographic magazine. Long is married and the father of three children.

Pilot Was Briton
The other passengers were listed as seven Germans, five Britons, three Belgians, two Frenchmen and seven Portuguese. The pilot and copilot were British and the other four crewmen Portuguese.

Veres said the area is being searched "with all intensity and minuteness possible during the night and the morning."

The U.S. Embassy said an American search plane reported sighting the downed aircraft and was trying to guide it back by radio. There were no confirming reports from other search planes or vessels.

The British pilot, Capt. Jim Broadbent, was a record-breaking flier before World War II. He set a solo flight record of 5 days, 4 hours, 21 minutes from Australia to England in 1938 which still stands.

Ammo Blast
Injures Man

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Exploding ammunition cars rained live artillery shells and hand grenades over a wide area at the Southern Railway's Norris yards Sunday and made the area hazardous.

The threat of additional explosions kept railroad officials at a distance.

Witnesses said five cars loaded with 105 millimeter shells and another with hand grenades were involved. Flames threatened two cars loaded with fuel.

Syrian MIGs
Chase Jordan
King's Plane

LONDON (AP)—Jordan radio announced today that King Hussein had returned to Amman after his plane was attacked by MIG jet fighters over Syria.

The broadcast said the plane, carrying the young King to Europe for a vacation, was suddenly attacked by "United Arab Republic MIG planes."

The attacking jets attempted to force the King's plane to land in Damascus, said the broadcast, monitored in London.

The pilot then turned the plane back toward Jordan and it "was treacherously attacked six times" before it crossed the border, the Jordanian announcer said.

According to an announcement in Amman before the King's departure, Hussein himself was piloting the plane—a twin-engine Jordanian air force plane.

There was no report on whether the plane had been damaged.

The MIGs, described by the Jordanian announcer, presumably were among those supplied by the Communist bloc to the United Arab Republic.

The attack, Jordan Radio said, occurred just 15 miles from Damascus.

Reports from Amman also said Hussein summoned a cabinet meeting as soon as he landed.

Gas Explosion
Seen Cause Of Fire In Hotel

MONTREAL, Que. (AP)—Fire that may have started from an exploding gas stove and swept through an old brick apartment building, was believed today to have claimed at least 20 lives.

Some of the 100 tenants and occupants died screaming as the blaze flashed from apartment to apartment early Sunday—so fast that a fireman said it was "like turning on a lot of switches."

Others jumped from third- and fourth-story windows. One man threw his 5½-year-old son out of a third-story window into some bushes. The boy was only slightly injured.

Witnesses told of seeing a mother and her new baby appear at a window and then disappear into the flames.

Investigators dug grimly into the ruins of the four-story building in their quest for bodies. Only eight bodies had been recovered, and only three of those were identified.

Police issued a list of 13 missing persons believed to have been in the building. But apartment dwellers said at least seven more persons were holding a party in one apartment before the fire.

Police expressed uncertainty about the final death toll until all the regular occupants—about 100 persons including several night club entertainers and recent emigrants from Europe—had been accounted for.

Russians Put Price
On Warning SystemTerms Aired
At Geneva By Red DelegateRemoval Of Bases
On Foreign Soil,
Disarming Sought

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
GENEVA (AP)—Russia today demanded sweeping nuclear disarmament and elimination of foreign military bases as its price for accepting an international warning system against surprise attacks.

Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov opened an East-West conference on prevention of surprise attacks with a thinly veiled denunciation of American foreign policy.

Appearance Surprise
The appearance of Kuznetsov, a political expert, as a delegate at the conference in itself was a surprise to the Western delegates who are scientists and military experts.

The five Western nations represented expected to participate in a technical conference devoted to feeling out the capacity of the two sides for launching a surprise war, and to see if there is the technical means of preventing such surprise. They expected to engage in no political problems.

The five-week meeting, in which the Soviet bloc also is represented by five countries, could prove to be a useful international card game, with each side gradually revealing a bit of its hand in the secret weapon category, especially missiles and bombers.

In his attack, Kuznetsov said the policy of "positions of strength and the brink of war" was mainly responsible for the fear of surprise attacks.

This fear, he declared, could be eliminated only by complete nuclear disarmament, reduction of conventional arms stockpiles and military forces and abandonment of military bases on foreign territory.

Have No Authority
The Western delegates are not empowered to conduct disarmament negotiations or even discuss a possible future treaty for the prevention of surprise attacks.

Their view is that such a treaty would be negotiated at a later political conference if the experts agree a warning system is technically feasible.

Speaking for the five Western nations, U.S. chief delegate William C. Foster avoided all reference to political matters. He urged the conference to stick to the purely technical consideration of modern weapons and the means of detecting planned surprise blows.

The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada represent the North Atlantic Treaty powers, and Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania the Soviet bloc.

TAIPEI (AP)—This was an even-numbered day of the month, a non-shelling day for the Quemoy Islands in the Communist calendar of warfare. For the fifth consecutive even-numbered day the Reds stuck to the calendar, not even bombarding areas outside the Nationalist Chinese islands' supply beaches and airstrip.

Even Sunday, an odd-numbered day, the Reds were almost asleep at their guns. They fired only 568 shells at the Quemoy.

Belgian Priest Gets
Nobel Peace Award

OSLO (AP)—The Rev. Dominique Georges Pire, a Dominican father who has devoted years to helping refugees from Eastern countries, won the Nobel Peace Prize for 1958 today.

Father Pire, 48, heads an organization he calls Europe of the Heart. He is a Belgian, born in Dinant, a French-speaking city on the River Meuse.

The prize, worth $1,227, was awarded by the five-man Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament. As usual, the committee gave no reason for its choice, nor did it say which other names had been proposed.

The announcement winds up the award of prizes for 1958, made from a fund left by Sweden's Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

The awards ceremony is to be held in Stockholm Dec. 12.

When the award was announced, Father Pire was at the Sarte Dominican Convent of Huy, his city of residence.

His secretary, Miss J. Jolliffe, said: "Father Pire is doing a retreat. I can't disturb him now but I will have to let him know."

He spent the night there, seemingly trapped.

FBI Enters
Probe Into
DynamitingIntegrated Five Years, School In
Osage Was Model

By FRED TREESH
MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—A dynamite blast heavily damaged an integrated 17-room elementary-junior high school building today in the mining town of Osage, which had been regarded as a model desegregated community.

Sheriff Charles J. Whiston of Monongalia County said at least a case of dynamite had been touched off at two points in the main hallway of the building at 2:15 a.m. e.s.t. A section of the brick wall of the 2½-story building was ripped out and the reinforced concrete ceiling supporting the second floor was bowed.

Came Without Warning
The blast came without warning. "This is the last thing we could expect," Superintendent of Schools Charles Stevenson said. "We never had any difficulty."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington announced that E. H. Winterrowd, special agent in charge of its Pittsburgh office, was en route to Osage "to actively assist the local authorities in every way possible."

The bureau said all of its facilities would be available for the investigation of the blast.

Winterrowd, the FBI said, personally will investigate any indications that federal laws had been violated.

The school served a student body of about 300 whites and 93 Negroes from the mining town and surrounding area.

Schools of Monongalia County have been integrated for about five years without incident. The building blasted today housed pupils of the first, second, third, seventh and eighth grades. Students of the other three grades used a building about 300 yards away which had been exclusively for Negroes before desegregation.

Early Per Cent Negro
About 40 per cent of the 400 residents of Osage, about three miles from the county seat of Morgantown, are Negroes. More than 50 per cent of the students at the school came from the surrounding area by bus.

Slate Police Cpl. W. B. Snodgrass and Sheriff Whiston said the dynamite apparently had been set off by a hand generator.

A 300-foot segment of wire of the type used for coal mine telephones was found leading from the explosion-wrecked corridor through a gymnasium window to a driveway at the rear of the building.

The dynamiting at Osage came as a complete surprise. School integration in the county was regarded as completely successful.

The Negro high school at Morgantown had been closed and Negro and white students attended classes and competed on varsity sports teams without difficulty.

Rightists Predominate In Algerian Election

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
ALGIERS (AP)—Rightist favoring integration with France make up the vast majority of those running for 70 seats in the French Parliament from Algeria and the Sahara. There is no sign that any party or candidate seeking independence for Algeria is contesting the election.

A last minute rush before the deadline Sunday midnight wound up with 53 party lists filed from Algeria's 18 election districts. Unofficial tabulations early today showed a total of 190 candidates—131 Moslems and 59 Europeans.

The last day of registration started slowly. Up to noon only nine party lists were turned in and 31 were filed between 9 p.m. and midnight.

Seventy deputies will be named to the French National Assembly in Paris in the elections Nov. 28-30. Algerian proper will have 67 and 3 will be from the Sahara, which is administered separately.

The proportion of Moslems to be elected has been fixed by law at two-thirds of the total. This will mean 46 Moslems will be sent to Paris, 44 from Algeria and 2 from the Sahara.

A preliminary check of the candidates whose backgrounds are known, and of the names on the party lists, showed the dominant tendency was right wing and favorable to the integration of France with Algeria.

Most of the party lists had titles which tied them to the rightwing Algerian Public Safety Committee movement which sparked the rebellion last May and helped push Gen. Charles de Gaulle back to power.

In a directive Oct. 9, Premier de Gaulle specified that "all tendencies" must be able to express themselves in the election. Later this was interpreted officially to exclude the Communist party and the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN). The FLN is the power behind Algeria's 4-year-old rebellion.

"Osage is a typical northern West Virginia coal mining community," authorities here said.

Osage was incorporated last June. Of the first city administration, two of the councilmen and the recorder are Negroes. Of the 17 teachers of the dynamited school, two are Negroes.

School superintendent Stevenson said the blasted school will be closed today. After Tuesday's Veterans' Day holiday, he said, he hoped to have the students housed in other buildings.

Clean up work at the school started within an hour after the blast. The area was roped off and only Board of Education employees and authorities were permitted to enter.

Airliner Lands But Baby Born Before It Does

OMAHA (AP)—A Trans-World Airlines plane bound nonstop from San Francisco to New York, made an emergency landing in Omaha late Sunday as one of the passengers gave birth to a baby.

Mrs. Kow Ju Sel, 21, gave birth to a 6-pound, 9-ounce boy just as the big airliner set down here. The mother and her son were reported doing fine at an Omaha hospital. It was her first child.

Over the western Nebraska hills, Sel notified stewardess Darlene Bilner of San Francisco of his wife's condition, and Capt. C. D. Strickler, 28-year-old plane commander radioed ahead for a physician and an ambulance to meet the plane here.

But the baby was born just before the 61-passenger airliner landed. A physician boarded the plane, checked the young mother's condition and she was rushed by ambulance to a hospital.

Liz Taylor Sees Chances For Oscar Given Setback

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor, quiet since her headline spree with singer Eddie Fisher, said today she believes the results of publicity will hurt her chances for winning an Academy Award. The smoky-eyed screen siren, a top Oscar candidate for her performance in "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof," says her obligation to the public is limited to the screen.

"My personal obligations are to my home and family," Liz said defensively. "I don't think there's any question but what all the publicity will affect my chance to win an award."

Liz, who has moved into Tyrone Power's former home in fashionable Bel-Air, refuses to talk about Fisher and the singer's explosive separation from his actress-wife Debbie Reynolds.

Immediately after the Debbie-Eddie-Liz blitzkrieg, the dark-haired actress confided in a columnist and wound up sounding like "the other woman."

Since then she has carefully avoided discussing the triangle.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau has raised by 10 to 15 million persons its estimate of the nation's population in 1975.

New estimates released Sunday put the total for that year at between 215,800,000 and 243,900,000 depending on future trends in births, deaths and immigration.

The new figures replaced estimates made only two years ago that the total would run between 206,900,000 and 228,500,000. The present total is about 175 million.

Plane Crashes Roof Of House, Airman Killed

ORANGEBURG, S. C. (AP)—A Civil Air Patrol officer was fatally injured when his light observation plane skimmed over the rooftops of a residential area here yesterday and crashed into the roof of a home.

The Orangeburg County sheriff's office identified the victim as Lt. Dudley W. McDaniel. His life plane was based at Orangeburg.

McDaniel, rushed to a hospital immediately after the accident, died there.

A. M. Gray, occupant of the home, said a large portion of the roof was ripped off, but none of it fell inside the house.

Cause of the crash was not immediately known.

U. S. Display Set In Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will open a scientific, cultural and technological exhibit in Moscow next summer. The exhibit will be landscaped for the purpose. Sokolniki is one of the Soviet capital's most popular recreation spots.

Signing of an agreement for the exhibit, part of the East-West cultural exchange agreement, was announced Sunday by Harold C. McClellan, general manager of the American exhibition.

McClellan has returned from Moscow, where last Thursday he signed the agreement along with the John C. Arnold, 71, died at D. Borissenko of the U.S.S.R. Chamber of Commerce.

The agreement calls for an American exhibition in the Soviet Union and a Soviet exhibition in the United States.

Salisbury's Top Promoter Has Birthday

Fred P. Adkins
Observes 80th
Birthday At Home

SALISBURY (AP) — They call him "Mr. Fred."

He has led or had a strong hand in virtually every community project that came along. Now Fred P. Adkins has turned 80 and shows no sign of slowing down.

His birthday was yesterday. Down from Washington for the occasion was his daughter, Bertha Adkins. She is undersecretary of health, education and welfare, formerly was vice chairman of the Republican National Committee.

She's the apple of her father's eye, of course.

"But I've had many other prizes and joys, too," said Adkins. "If you're careful and want to do the right thing, it usually turns out all right. I've always been optimistic."

White-haired Fred Adkins is former president of the Eastern Shore's largest lumber firm. Over the years, he has been a driving force in:

Building of the Wicomico Hotel in 1923, first modern one on the Shore at the time.

Establishment of the Salisbury Times in 1923.

Extension of Main Street.

Acquisition of Salisbury State Teachers College.

Founding of Chesapeake Airways.

Organization of the first Chamber of Commerce (he headed it).

It's been like that right along.

In 1942, his business and community work earned him the Salisbury Award.

A leading Methodist layman, Mr. Fred attributes his success to "partnership with Almighty God."

Since he retired, he spends his days reading, visiting friends and looking for good turns he can do.

When he was recently host for a dinner of the Bethesda Methodist Church choir, each guest was given an inspirational booklet, "You're Greater Than You Know."

He said parents must return to teaching their children "the necessities of life" at an early age.

"The parents have complete domination over the child the first seven years. It is a time for showing values and love. Instead, many parents are off somewhere and a babysitter is watching the children."

Choice Morsels

BRISTOL, England (UPI)—An outdoor bulletin board offered two pounds reward today for:

Chiropractor Group Holds Conference

Need for a strong physical fitness program for students in Allegany County was outlined by Dr. Orville G. Swartley at a recent meeting of the Western Maryland Chiropractic Association.

Dr. Swartley presented the program recently outlined by Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for Allegany County schools, and pointed out parents should become acquainted with the need of consistent daily exercise for their children.

Dr. Swartley said effective exercise must be fitted to the body's needs and parents should take an interest in the exercises their children perform.

The association has a movie available on posture and any local or area organization wishing to view the film may arrange booking by contacting Dr. N. R. Williams, Westernport.

The next meeting of the association will be a dinner meeting at All Ghan Shrine Country Club Thursday, December 5.

Dr. Robert E. ShROUT, president of the association, said several members planned to attend business meetings of the Maryland Chiropractic Association public relations and legislative committees yesterday in Baltimore.

Attending from here were Drs. ShROUT, Jack Murray, Harold S. Malin, Adam Baer and Rita E. Brinker.

The New York City International Airport is a 4,900 acre field.

Falls Church Annexation Plan Looms

City Eyeing Rich
Seven Corners And
Other County Sections

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (AP) — Possible annexation of some of Fairfax County by Falls Church will be discussed tonight by the Falls Church City Council.

City Manager Lewis Z. Johnston said he will present a resolution calling for a study of the feasibility of expanding its area.

The new move would come after an unsuccessful attempt in 1949 to annex nearly 11 square miles. A three-judge court turned down that bid.

Johnston said if a preliminary study is authorized by the council, city workers will survey areas on all sides of the city except Arlington. Annexation of Arlington land is prohibited by a special act of the General Assembly.

Nearly all residential land in the city has been used, Johnston said. He added there is considerable commercial land in the city's two square miles which has not been developed.

The city long has eyed the valuable commercial development at Seven Corners, just outside the city limits. That new development is one of Fairfax County's biggest tax producing areas.

Last year the county lost two square miles to the town of Vienna, and in 1952 it lost 10 square miles to Alexandria. This year, the town of Fairfax was awarded about three square miles. That annexation case is being appealed by the county.

Beard Shaved, Flier Looks Like Scared Boy

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (UPI)—One pilot of the Navy's VX-6 squadron lost not only his rakish beard but a "customer" today to Capt. Robert J. Scagle's order that everybody shave.

"I'd have flown anywhere with that fellow," said one wondering member of the squadron of the shaven pilot. "Now he looks like a scared little boy."

Color Photos Trap Suspect

WASHINGTON (AP)—How color photography helped Montgomery County, Md., police to trap a sex suspect is described in the current issue of the FBI law enforcement bulletin.

The article is written by Col. James S. McAuliffe, superintendent of Montgomery County police. During 1957 and the early part of this year, McAuliffe wrote, his department received reports of a child molester. A victim described the color scheme and other details of the car.

Police used another car with the identical color scheme as a model. Color photos from every angle were distributed to county police. Three days later a driver of a car which appeared to match the photos was arrested and later identified in a lineup.

Teacher Pay Hike Backed

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland State Teachers Assn. has done some homework on last Tuesday's election and figures there is strong backing among legislators for granting another $400 pay raise for teachers.

The association compiled a list of successful candidates to compare their sentiments expressed in a pre-election questionnaire on the pay raise issue.

The MSTA said none of the 109 who replied voiced opposition. Nine of the 29 senators agreed with the association's legislative program without qualification. Fourteen said they would stand on their record of aid to education, four expressed "general favor" and two others said they would lend "general support."

In the House of Delegates, 58 of the 123 replied "yes" to the proposal. Ninety-seven said they were generally in favor of the salary hike.

Police Rescue Dog After Birds Attack

PORTSMOUTH, England (UPI)—Police had to rescue a dog from the birds Sunday. The Golden Labrador retriever had chased a pair of swans into a pond.

There they turned on the dog, swam him ashore on an island and kept him there, until police arrived with a boat.

Towson Professors Rap Medical Association

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Professors at Towson State Teachers College have given a polite but firm rap on the knuckles to the Baltimore County Medical Assn. for criticizing a nude silhouette posture program for coeds.

The Towson State chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors declared Sunday that the medical men had jumped to conclusions "through design or lack of forethought," and that they lacked "professional courtesy, objectivity and dignity."

High Stakes

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI)—Birmingham University has banned all-day poker games which kept students away from classes and meals and sometimes led to the gambling away of scholarship grants. The London Sunday Graphic reported Sunday.

The chapter called the medical association's position a "misrepresentation which is doing another profession incalculable harm."

And the professors called on the Council of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland to use its influence in getting the county group to withdraw its resolution of condemnation.

The teachers college here for years has used silhouette photographs to aid gym teachers in structuring freshmen in correct posture. Girls do not have to take all their clothes off if they object.

Soon the county medical association condemned the practice. At a closed meeting with state educators last week, the group issued a mild apology but it did not indicate whether the original resolution had been withdrawn.

The day

No need to gulp down good coffee this morning. Or to eat a warmed-over dinner late tonight. No worries about work. Perhaps no worries at all.

Perhaps? Yes, retirement—real retirement—doesn't just happen. It has to be planned. Mentally. Physically. Financially. And it's an encouraging sign that more and more Americans are beginning to prepare for this day years before it arrives.

Pension plans and Social Security are helping to solve the money needs of retirement. So is life insurance. In thousands of instances the additional income at retirement from life insurance policies has meant the difference between semi-dependence on one's children and an independent old age.

Isn't it reassuring to know that the life insurance you own for your family's protection today may help support you in later years?

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

Cheap Killing

RED CHINESE shells continue to pour into the offshore island of Quemoy by the tens of thousands. But only, of course, on odd-numbered days. On days of even date, all is quiet. One wonders if those still uncommitted millions in the world who find it so hard to judge Communist China and Russia harshly realize the tragic absurdity of the current Chinese "attack on alternate days." Presumably when the Peiping government thought this one up it imagined the world would accept it as an act of mercy, letting Nationalist Chinese supply ships into Quemoy as strikers sometimes allow food and milk to be delivered to hospitals.

BUT WHAT THE on-again-off-again shelling actually does is to expose with dramatic vividness the cold, heartless calculation by which both Peiping and Moscow employ violence as a device of grand policy. In the Communist realm, violence is something to be turned on and off like a faucet, as it suits purpose. It can be a first resort or a last resort, depending not so much on national emotion as on strategic action. Only in the Communist mind would the idea even arise that a nation might be viewed as adopting a merciful compromise when it decided to ration killing and destruction by an every-other-day stretchout. The quiet periods really serve to underscore the brutality of the intermittent assaults. It is almost as if a huge sign hung over the doorway at Peiping headquarters: "Killing done cheap on alternate days of the week. Inquire within."

APPARENTLY the absurdity of blows on the heads one day and bandages the next would never occur to China's Red leaders. For they, like their counterparts in the Kremlin, think of violence as a natural and inevitable fact of policy. And they assume everybody feels as they do about it. Consequently they could not understand why they should not get credit for more than reasonable restraint when they hold off on the trigger. What they have to learn is that they can reap no great reward of world esteem when they fire no shells on even-numbered days, so long as they touch off so much as a single one on odd-numbered days. Peace is not a thing of well-spaced fragments. It must be whole and complete.

America Faces West

IT WILL NOT BE until next summer, probably, that Alaska will be formally proclaimed as America's 49th state. But within less than a month it will have its first true national elections and by January it will be a political reality as a part of the union. No one can have any doubt that this development will have important effect on the alignments of forces in future Congresses. The general feeling is that Alaska's two senators will add strength to the evidently growing Western liberal block. Many signs exist of an increasing orientation of the country toward the West, and Alaska simply will give further impetus. In the West, where the problems often are as big as the spaces, the outlook of the people tends to be expansive. There is also an easier turning to government for solutions, for the federal authority always has played a larger role there than elsewhere. Thus, as we grow and change, the balances among our varied regions go on shifting to give America new and ever richer patterns of life.

Those Big '59's

WE'VE ALL HEARD a host of gags about the difficulty of fitting today's big cars into garages built for lesser craft. The 1959 models, some of them pretty beautiful wagons, aren't making them fit any easier. In New York the individual motorist hasn't offered any fresh comment on the trend, but the owners of the big transient garages sure have. They plan to soak the longer, wider 1959's with parking charges 15 to 30 per cent higher than the usual. Some of them even wanted to turn these cars away at the doors, as too much to cope with. Is this the pattern of the future, with parking rates graded according to car model and size? The complexity of it all is a little frightening, both for motorist and garage attendant. Perhaps at some point it will all be simplified by simply asking the owners of the big jobs to acquire dock permits.

Younger, More Alert Men Come Into Office

WASHINGTON — The voters elected a contemporary Congress and contemporary governors last week.

In almost every instance the victors are younger, better educated and more alert than the men they will replace. The future that they will shape may not be much of a future in the eyes of many of the losers, but it is all the future the present generation is going to have.

Because the Democrats practice politics more consistently and more sensitively than Republicans they were able to ride this trend to their sensational victories.

IT IS HIGHLY significant that the outstanding Republican survivor of the avalanche, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, insisted upon stressing contemporary problems, openly rebuffed the scare tactics of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon and repeatedly shied away from the Republican label.

Rockefeller sensed that GOP strategy would not win New York. Apparently it failed everywhere else.

ONLY ONE small, underpopulated state elected an outspoken right-wing Republican. Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona fought his campaign largely against his personal devil, labor leader Walter Reuther, and defeated a Democratic conservative, Gov. Ernest McFarland.

New York almost alone gives the Republican party a true center of power today and a claim to be a viable institution, able to expand and grow.

Thus Rockefeller emerges as more than a potential rival of Vice President Nixon for the Republican nomination for President in 1960. He can be the re-builder of his party—the task for which the President once seemed ideally equipped but for which he has shown neither inclination nor talent.

WITH THEIR present numbers and strength the Democrats offer no such golden opportunity to any one man. In their efforts to capture the 1960 prize, Democratic front-runners will be jostling each other, compelled to compete harshly within the family.

Rockefeller has vote appeal, energy, ambition, lashings of money and lies with many walks of American life. Albany will test his political skill, but he will have the best help money can buy and he has shown—in a nice way but unmistakable—that he can be ruthless.

IT WILL BE endlessly fascinating to watch the Vice-President cope with the first real challenge he has encountered within the Republican party. He will be handicapped by the fact that his home base in California has been swept away.

There the Democrats triumphed, as forecast. It is further evidence that the party's center of gravity is shifting westward and that it has greatly expanded its Old South-big city machine base. The continuing rise of the West contributes to the South's state of seige within its party. Despite their seniority and parliamentary skill, the Southerners in Congress will find it increasingly difficult to hold the fort on civil rights, though the din will be terrific.

THE FIRST tendency of politicians was to stress the local issues, which affected the outcome. Unquestionably, they are very important in midterm elections.

But the Democratic victors in nearly every case also discussed and criticized the foreign policy of the Administration. From Maine to California, and including Wyoming, they demanded new solutions in world affairs.

The opportunity is thus afforded the Eisenhower Administration to be more imaginative and flexible than it has been in the past. The vested Republican interest in Nationalist China, for example, has lost those defenders who were up for re-election, as Senators John Bricker in Ohio and George Malone in Nevada went down to defeat.

THE FEELING that something ought to be tried which has not been tried was clearly expressed in the campaign by Democrats, and they have won. This is an area, too, on which they have as a party very great unity.

The election furnished few personal surprises. Aspiring Democratic Senators John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri got their big pluralities. Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey is helped by the victory of his choice for Senator Harrison Williams, one of the youngest and freshest of the new voices.

GOV. GEORGE Leader of Pennsylvania rather unexpectedly lost for the Senate but his Republican rival, Rep. Hugh Scott, is in the New York GOP pattern. Rep. Kenneth Keating, who rode to the Senate on Rockefeller's coattails, had a less liberal record than Scott but can be expected to take on the Rockefeller line.

In every corner of the country the no-sayers were, in fact, told no.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—Might as well get the bit for the visitors out of the way first: the new place, the place the theatre stars and other actors are flocking to these dinner nights is The Playbill, a restaurant in a hotel at 44th Street and Eighth Avenue. It is getting a lunch, dinner and after-theatre supper trade of pack-'em-in type since it opened two weeks ago.

Caricature murals sprawl across the Victorian walls in their deep, red, cut velvet coverings. Food's all right, too. Try it the next time you are in New York.

I DON'T want to blow up the Brooklyn Bridge or paint rude words on G. Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon, but I have to tell the truth. A female colleague renowned from Coast to Coast for the variety and number of hats she wears showed up in the theatre the other night without a hat on. People felt as though the end of the world was coming or something like that.

And a critical colleague, renowned in New York for standing in back of the theatre until the house lights dim down and then springing to his seat before full darkness sets in, used the same evening to walk calmly to his seat a full 10 minutes before the curtain went up.

Both events caused considerable of a First Night buzz, which is of no value except to prove that First Night people are starved for something to talk about. The coincidence is called Tired Mind.

A CHARMING and winsome little show came in recently in which Charles Boyer and Claudette Colbert star and pretty Julie Newmar distinguishes herself. It's called "The Marriage-of-Reason," and is selling out months in advance.

Every night, when Boyer arrives at the theatre, about 40 women near the age of 40 stand in the stage alley between sidewalk and stage door and harry him for his autograph.

Don't ever think Mr. B. stops and signs each one. Instead, he uses the occasion as a test of his athletic prowess. If he can make it from taxi door to stage door without signaling more than two, yet not offending anyone, he feels he is in fine fettle. If it takes three he feels he is sluggish and slowing up.

HIS TECHNIQUE is simplicity itself. He takes the pen and paper from the first woman he sees and murmurs: "Madame, I'm sorry. The traffic you know, Late. If you'll walk along with me, please."

He signs as he hurries through the throng followed by the chosen lady, then midway chooses another. By the time he is at the stage door, both are signed and that's all there is time for. Good night, ladies. Ah, these French, these French. Charmers, every one of them.

MISS NEWMAR by the way, certainly is on the threshold of large and exciting events for herself. Daughter of a celebrated one-time Ziegfeld beauty, Helene Jesmer, she walloped the ticket buyers in "Li'l Abner," doing nothing more than standing still in most of her skin. Now she is acting and acting with two smooth, slick stars and taking no back seat from either.

She doesn't lose her scenes in Boyer or Miss Colbert, either singly or double or in trio, with the result that at least six major producers are frantically trying to find plays to star her in a year hence.

This was considerable of an assignment for a relatively new young actress and one of lesser personality and skill would have been overwhelmed by either or both of the powerful stars, thus destroying the show. Julie is the kind of girl who, if you write pleasantly about her, sends you a jar of peach jam.

Julie, if you send me one I'll swap you. Save your money, child. It is enough to have known your lovely mother, you and admired that performance.

ODDESSY sight in New York: a sparkling new, convertible Continental Mark III, all white with a stuffed Chihuahua dog as a hood ornament. Looks as though it had been a live, real dog once.

Washington Calling

WASHINGTON—"You will admit, of course, that your country is run by the Rockefeller, the Mellons and the Fords."

The speaker was a Soviet citizen encountered in Kiev on a visit to Russia last summer. So indoctrinated was he with the official propaganda line that it was little use arguing with him that, politically speaking, nothing could be further from the truth.

In the naive propaganda out of Moscow, Nelson Rockefeller's victory in the race for Governor of New York is being hailed as another piece of evidence in the rule of big money in America.

CERTAINLY Rockefeller's wealth, his name and his family's influence helped. But unlike older men of great riches who have tried to play a part in American political life, whether directly or indirectly, he made a broad appeal to moderates and liberals. It was the appeal of a friendly, likeable human being who was assuming in his campaign that under the rules of fair play the golden spoon he was born to would not be held against him.

At the same time Rockefeller was demonstrating that a rich man could do it the hard way by getting into the thick of the political fray.

Others in his income bracket were following the old course of trying to buy their way home. Many were contributing, as Vice President Nixon plaintively pointed out at the start of the campaign, to the hate peddlers only too eager to promise that the good old days of William McKinley would be restored.

ON THE OTHER side of the continent another hard-campaigning young Republican, who had also shocked off the Old Guard, was winning a less conspicuous victory. Mark Hatfield, Secretary of State of Oregon, defeated an old-line Republican candidate in the primary and went on to do his own intense, friendly, hand-shaking campaign.

He came through in his bid for the New York governorship confirms this analysis. Mr. Rockefeller disassociated himself from the GOP's national campaign.

He remarked wryly 10 days before the election that the Old Guard still believed you could buy elections by putting up enough billboards and getting enough television time.

"In a once-Republican state in which the Democrats had captured virtually every office this former professor of political science used a new approach and new techniques.

Determined to remake the Republican organization in Oregon, Hatfield at 36 will bear watching. If the Republican party has a future it lies in realists such as Oregon's newly elected young governor.

AN EXCEPTION to the liberal-moderate tack is Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who won re-election on an all-out down-with-Reuther campaign. But in Arizona the roles of the two parties were the reverse of what they were almost everywhere else.

Goldwater set out to create the image of the ardent crusader, even though his words were those of reaction. Fifteen years younger than his 64-year-old Democratic challenger, Governor Ernest McFarland, he gave the impression of intense sincerity as he flew from one corner of the state to the other in his own plane.

In contrast, the amiable McFarland seemed to represent nothing more than the tired past and a continuing yen for high office.

IN THE NEW Senate Goldwater will be a lonely figure. The extreme right had already lost Senators Joseph McCarthy and Herman Welker. In announcing his retirement Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana had a forecast of the handwriting on the wall, and he failed by a wide margin to put over his hand-picked successor, Governor Harold Hanley.

In the Democratic sweep the right wing lost Senator John W. Bricker in Ohio and Senator George Malone in Nevada, and Senator William F. Knowland, on whom they could usually count, went down to a foreordained doom in California. In Wyoming the right lost Senator Frank A. Barrett, who almost always voted on the conservative side.

PRESUMABLY the leader of the greatly shrunken Republican flock in the new Senate will be Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois. His will be far from an easy task during the last two years of a President who cannot succeed himself and who has been, in effect, repudiated by the voters.

But if Dirksen is bound to have troubles with his sad minority, so will the Majority Leader, Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, with his greatly swollen majority. Johnson, who believes in a place for everyone and everyone in his place, is going to have to cope with eager beavers taking new confidence from the liberal-labor sweep.

Altogether it promises to be an extremely interesting two years. And if a Rockefeller should emerge as the Republican Candidate for President no one should be in the least surprised.

Washington Scene

SEVILLE — U. S. Ambassador to Spain, John Davis Lodge will be in Washington when you read this, but he was in these picturesque and historical parts recently, performing his diplomatic duties and also recovering from a wild and weird experience with the U. S. Navy. When I ran into him he was still reminiscently trembling over Tilly.

The handsome envoy, a naval reserve officer, had just finished his annual refresher course with the Sixth Fleet. He had been welcomed aboard the Flagship Des Moines by Vice Admiral Charles R. "Cat" Brown, who was getting ready to take over as Commander in Chief, Allied Forces Southern Europe.

One of the first things the Navy did with Ambassador Lodge was shoot him off the deck of the Flagship in a new bomber. He had barely gotten over the initial shock when he picked up this eerie broadcast from the carrier:

"Tilly has fallen in the catwalk."

HE ASSUMED it was some new Navy code and couldn't understand why it made the pilot so grim. The flier explained that "Tilly" was the mobile derrick that lifted planes into place on the carrier.

"That's all right then," said the envoy cheerily. "Tilly hasn't been lost. She's still on the ship."

"But she's also the heaviest movable thing on it," objected the pilot. "She can lift anything liftable on the carrier, but what's going to lift Tilly?"

Ambassador Lodge agreed it could be a bit of a problem at that. He asked the pilot what might be done.

"Well," said the flier judiciously, "we could go on to Naples. The Randolph is there and we could land on it."

"Splendid!" said the envoy. "Let's land on the Randolph."

"There's only one minor objection," said the pilot. "We can land on the Randolph, but we can't get off it again — not until it gets back to New York. It can't catapult a bomber this size. But I'll land on it if you say so."

"I positively don't say so," cried the envoy. "I'm due back in Spain at my job of ambassadoring. I can't imagine what the State Department would say if informed I was taking a long cruise across the Atlantic. What alternative can you offer?"

"Well, we could try landing on the Franklin D. Roosevelt. But not until we're almost out of gas. We can't land on it with any gas to speak of—too heavy. We might miscalculate—and it'd be embarrassing."

IN RECOUNTING the adventure, Ambassador Lodge said he agreed with the pilot that it would be better to be dead than embarrassed — but not with great heartiness.

"In fact," said the envoy, "I was getting ready to urge a landing on the Randolph, and become the only U. S. Ambassador permanently at sea, when the Des Moines radioed that, by dint of superhuman effort, it had gotten Tilly out of the catwalk. We came down fast."

I thought this epic should be printed because it goes to show that even an ambassador has problems. I learned, however, that our Embassy in Spain has other worries too.

Looking Backward

25 YEARS AGO
November 10, 1933
Friday

NO FUNDS AVAILABLE—Mrs. Mark W. Roe, representing the Allegany County Federation of Women's Clubs, appeared today before the Allegany County Commissioners relative to the widow's pension legislation passed by the Maryland Legislature in its 1931 session. The commissioners said county appropriations had been made, and no funds were available to carry it out.

ARMISTICE DAY—The observance of Armistice Day in Cumberland will be marked by a military and civic parade tomorrow afternoon under auspices of Port Cumberland Post 13, American Legion. An all-day turkey shoot will be held at Rustic Inn on Winchester Road.

TURKEYS PLENTIFUL—Turkeys are plentiful this season—so plentiful in fact, that they probably will be cheap enough for almost every Maryland dinner table Thanksgiving Day. Choice fowl will probably retail at 25 to 29 cents a pound, dead weight.

50 YEARS AGO
November 10, 1908
Tuesday

STRIKE NEARS END—The strike of the paper makers which commenced last September, has been declared off and the paper famine will probably soon terminate. The strike of labor against this over-protected monopoly was to resist a ten per cent reduction in wages. As the trust was forced to accept a compromise of five per cent, the consumer may look for a prompt advance in the price of the product. The trusts never lose.

SMOKE GALORE—The smoke in and around Cumberland today is intense, caused by woods fires on the surrounding mountains. The city has never been so smoky. The sun was hid all day.

WORK BEGINS—Work began yesterday on improving the ascent of Washington Street from the intersection of Water Street at Wills Creek bridge.

U. S. Facing Oil Imports Dependency

Nation Slipping Back In Discovering New Fields, Firm Reports

By ELMER C. WALZER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The time may be approaching when the United States will be dependent of imports to satisfy its growing requirements for petroleum, according to the investment firm of Calvin Bullock.

The firm carries a detailed analysis of the oil industry in its monthly publication, "Perspective," and notes that we have been slipping back in new discoveries of oil reserves over the recent years.

"As annual production rises," the article notes, "it is necessary to increase the quantity of proven reserves found each year merely to keep even."

"This has become increasingly difficult to achieve in the U.S. and as a result supply of oil measures in terms of years' requirements declined from 14.0 in 1949 to 12.4 in 1957."

"During the period from 1947 through 1957 an average of 3.55 billion barrels have been found each year. Three times during the past four years this average has not been attained and in 1957 only 2.56 billion barrels were produced, while 2.91 billion were required, causing year-end reserves to fall by 349 million barrels from the previous year."

The article admits that finding of oil tends to be quite erratic from year to year and recent results therefore are not conclusive. Also, it notes that increases in our imports are reportedly to blame for the weakening trend of supply.

Since 1947, it is pointed out, imports of petroleum have risen by 254 per cent to the point where net imports of crude and products averaged 983,000 barrels daily in 1957.

Efforts have been made by the government to curtail imports. But the Bullock article expresses the hope this policy will not be carried to the point of encouraging excessively uneconomic production and thus cause this country to lose the competitive advantage of relatively favorable energy costs.

Demand for petroleum products is rising in the free world at a rate twice that of the U. S. rate, the article points out. This situation has prevailed since 1947 but the U. S. still uses more petroleum than all the rest of the world combined.

This year the U. S. domestic demand is expected to show a gain of 2.1 per cent over 1957 and it is predicted the rise in 1958 will be four per cent. The an-

New Hospital Plan Revived

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP)—A campaign for a new general hospital in this area may be revived because of a tentative offer of $500,000.

The Silver Spring Hospital Assn., dormant since it lost a financing referendum two years ago, received the tentative offer from Science, Education and Research for Community Hospitals Inc. The group is a national philanthropic organization of Seventh Day Adventist physicians.

Stephen J. Ryan, president of the hospital group, said the organization is ready to do business. Ryan outlined tentative plans for a 110 bed hospital, which would be expanded eventually to about 330 beds.

Grady Might Drop Charge Against Cop

Former Baltimore Rackets Inspector Granted New Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)—State's Atty. J. Harold Grady says he probably will drop perjury charges against Clarence O. Forrester, the former police rackets division inspector granted a new trial by the Baltimore Supreme Bench.

In reversing Forrester's conviction last spring by a Circuit Court jury, the judges of the Supreme Bench said there was insufficient evidence to support the charge that Forrester induced two sergeants to give false testimony at a numbers defendant's trial. Grady says he has no new evidence.

Grady noted that Forrester still faces two other charges of malfeasance in office and maintaining a disorderly house.

"Consideration will be given to a trial on these indictments," Grady said. "It is extremely dubious Forrester will be retried on this perjury indictment."

Forrester's sidetrack in the rackets division, ex-Capt. Hyman Goldstein, also faces the malfeasance and disorderly house charges. He was a co-defendant with Forrester in the subornation of perjury but the Supreme Bench refused his appeal for a new trial. Goldstein probably will be sentenced on that conviction soon.

Doctors Studying Troublesome 'Happy Pill'

By DELOE SMITH

UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The troublesome medical question concerning the habit-forming power (if any) of the commonly used "happy pill" popped up again recently. The poppers this time were two medical men with a patient who had the habit in a bad way, and no mistake.

But he was a special person as regards habit-forming. He had been addicted twice to drink (the first time he broke it with the aid of Alcoholics Anonymous and the second time with the help of the "happy pill") and once to the narcotic drug in prescription sleeping medicine.

This caused his medical men to feel a person who ever had been addicted to anything ran a considerable risk of becoming addicted to the "happy pill." They granted that for all other persons it probably was non-addictive.

Prescribed Freely

The commonly used "happy pill" is made of meprobamate. Doctors prescribe it in enormous and growing quantity under the trade names, "Miltown" and "Equanil." These prescriptions are written for tense, non-relaxing persons who often are addicted (in one degree or another) to alcoholic drink and to knock-out medication at bedtime.

This habit-forming question has been bedeviling doctors since the drug came into use about four years ago. Too many persons have taken too much of it for it to be obviously and clearly addictive. Some authorities have denied flatly that it is. Just as doctors began feeling positive about its harmlessness, up popped the question again.

Grew Uneasy

Now the medical staff of the Veterans Hospital at Salt Lake City, which is affiliated with the University of Utah Medical School, has confessed to "growing uneasiness and dissatisfaction" with meprobamate in drinking patients. It delegated Drs. Beverly T. Mead and Robert C. Mohr to detail this in a report to the New England Journal of Medicine.

Their addicted patient had all the classical symptoms of any drug addict. In order to get the same effect, he had to constantly increase the dosages. When he tried to give up the drug, he had extremely unpleasant physical reactions, including the "grandmal" convulsive seizure which is among the most unpleasant. He had to be hospitalized and doctors broke his habit by cutting his daily doses gradually.

New System Starts Soon At City Dump

Ordinance Calls For $10 Fee For Outside Users

New regulations governing the use of the city's dump on Oldtown Road go into effect Saturday and non-residents of the city who use its facilities will share in the cost of its operation after that date.

An ordinance providing for hours of operation, fees and other regulations was approved unanimously by the Mayor and Council today.

Most of the impact falls on approximately 2,500 non-resident families who have heretofore had free use of dump facilities.

A commercial hauler for non-residents will be required to pay $10 a year per customer. In cases where the amount of garbage or material placed on the dump is considered excessive, the city has the right to raise the non-resident fee, for any person, firm or corporation.

Residents who wish to use the dump on an intermittent basis can do so free of charge after identifying themselves to the dump operator.

Where a commercial hauler is used by local residents to take refuse to the dump, he will pay a $1 fee a year which will cover all resident customers.

The dump will be open from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday; and from 9 a. m. to noon Saturday. It will be closed Sunday and may be closed at any time upon order of the commissioner of streets and public property.

Unauthorized persons will be banned from the dump area and fines are provided for violation of terms of the ordinance. A person, firm or corporation found in violation of the regulations and convicted is liable to a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100 and in default of these fines can be committed to city or county jail for not less than one day nor more than 30 days.

Salvage rights at the dump are held by Feldstein Iron and Metal Works which will pay $205 a month.

George Boech, a commercial hauler who said he also represented three others, appeared to protest the ordinance. He said he did not feel the fees to be charged fair.

In a statement, Long said: "The ordinance is felt to be in the best interests of the residents of Cumberland and the Mayor and Council had many meetings with various individuals with all expressing the belief the city should make a charge for the dump use."

"The dump area is limited and it will not be many more years before the city will have to purchase land in order to relocate the dump, which will certainly cost many thousands of dollars; or it will be forced to build its own incinerator the cost of which is estimated to exceed $100,000."

Long said the city spends approximately $72,000 for garbage collection and dump operation and it is felt the 2,500 non-resident families using the facilities "must of necessity" pay a charge.

"The ordinance as well as rules and regulations made in its connection must be strictly enforced," Long said.

Investigation Covers Cases On West Side

A 12-year-old West Side boy is being held in the Detention Quarters at the Allegany County Jail in connection with a series of minor cases.

Officer Clarence Valentine picked up the boy and a 15-year-old companion last night after a West Side woman telephoned that the youngster was peeping in her daughter's bedroom window.

During questioning at Police Headquarters the 12-year-old boy admitted pulling a knife on two young girls, looking into the girls' bedroom windows, turning in a false fire alarm at the Algonquin Hotel on Halloween night and damaging an automobile owned by L. R. Decker of 302 Magruder Street.

The youngster also admitted causing damage to several other cars on the West Side, taking a check from Bruce Gates, 408 Magruder Street, which was later repaid, and to stealing girls' underclothes from a clothes line.

The 15-year-old boy was released following the questioning. The youngster will be given a hearing later this week in Juvenile Court, Officer Valentine said.

Study Group To Meet

The Parent-Child Study Group of Allegany High School will meet tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at the Board of Education Building, according to Mrs. Ralph Isminger, leader.

Services Set For Victim Of Auto Accident

Services for Lester Lee Green, 21, Moscow, who was killed instantly yesterday in a one-car accident on State Route 36 in Moscow, will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Elchhorn Funeral Home in Lonaconing.

Rev. Byron Keeseecker, pastor of Barton Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Laurel Hill Cemetery.

State Police said Green was killed when he lost control of his vehicle and the car rolled over on him after he was thrown from the auto.

Police said Green, an unemployed construction worker, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Minors' Hospital in Frostburg where physicians said he sustained a fractured skull, lacerated brain and other severe injuries. He apparently died instantly in the crash.

The accident occurred as young Green was driving a companion, Robert Leroy Matthews, 31, also of Moscow, to the latter's home. Matthews was treated for lacerations of the head at the hospital and was released, police said.

According to testimony given to state police by the passenger and to physical marks at the scene of the accident, Green was traveling north on the highway at an apparent high rate of speed.

Trooper Bruce E. Diehl, who investigated, said the youth failed to negotiate a sweeping left turn in the road just 50 yards from Matthews' residence.

The car apparently hit a shoulder on the right side of the highway, skidded across to the left as Green lost control, spun sideways and rolled over a three-foot embankment, turning over several times. Green was thrown from the vehicle, which rolled over him.

The vehicle was demolished by the crash, police said.

Yesterday's accident was the 11th highway fatality in Allegany County this year. State Police noted that only one person has been killed in highway accidents in nearby Garrett County this year.

The victim was born at Moscow, a son of Clay and Thelma (Andrews) Green.

Surviving besides his parents is a sister, Miss Thelma Green, at home.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

State College Plans Two Stage Offerings

The drama and music departments of Frostburg State Teachers' College have combined in the production of two stage offerings which will have public performances 8:15 p. m. today and tomorrow at Compton Hall auditorium.

A dress rehearsal last night revealed the two stage pieces to be stimulating, delightful and modern theatrical fare, sensitively directed by Dorothy Stone White and Charles I. Sager of the college faculty.

"Manhattan Tower," a musical narrative by Gordon Jenkins, is a veritable "tour de force" by William Preston who solo dances and pantomimes his way through a heartwarming and touching tribute expressing a New Yorker's love for his home town. Alice Zehrbach is at her best as narrator, a role she is superbly fitted to perform.

Suzanne Harrison and Joan Sweeney are attractive partners in two of Preston's dances, and Elizabeth Murray's singing lifts the show to the highest standards of excellence.

The musicianship of Edward Lester and Carole Bean is a major contribution to the production's success. Others in the cast, all deserving special mention, are Marilyn Hitchcock, Elizabeth Maher, Camille Robinson, Leon Brumback, John Shuhart, Arthur Isom, Charles Thompson and Thomas Richards.

Choral numbers are an important feature of both "Manhattan Towers" and the musical legend titled "The Lonesome Train," the other offering on the current double bill at PSTC. Members of the Madrigal Singers and the Maryland Singers form the chorus which does some thrilling work in the two presentations.

Outstanding in "The Lonesome Train" (which deals with Lincoln's assassination and the return of his body to Springfield, Ill.) are Judith Ritchie, who has a speaking voice of superior quality, Oliver Rephann, Jeneanne Murray, Elizabeth Murray, Eugene Kidwell, Kenneth McKinney, Sterling Edwards, John Clark, Ross Clemmensen, square dance caller, Elwood Heck, John Shuhart, Donald Turley, Howard Lemmert, Larry McLean, Charles Thompson, Carole Rhodes, Larry Slup, Arthur Isom, Laurel Bachall, Mary Jane Egerlon and a little grade school guest actress, Stephanie Hines. A group of square dancers include Pat Weicht, Barbara Wiles, Elizabeth Maher, Catherine Joyce, Howard (Continued on Page 14)

Policy Move On Vacations Made By City

Ordinance Affects Only New Workers Hired After Dec. 30

The Mayor and Council today approved an ordinance to take effect December 30 which will drastically affect vacation periods for new employees hired on or after that date.

Present employees, including classified and police and firemen, or those hired before the effective date of the ordinance, will be entitled to 15 days' vacation after one year service, as is presently provided.

The ordinance approved today will then put the following regulations into effect:

Employees, whether hourly or rated, will receive five working days' vacation after one year continuous service; ten days after two years continuous service; and 15 days after three years continuous service, all with pay.

No Accumulation
No accumulation of vacation from one year to the next will be allowed and in determining time of vacations, seniority will be given preference.

Each department will be required to adopt a uniform system for computing vacation privileges based on the city's fiscal year. In computing the vacation period from the anniversary date of employment to the end of the fiscal year, the basis for computation will be five-sixths days a month or fraction thereof.

No employee will be allowed to take less than five working days' vacation not more than ten days at any one time unless by special order of the Mayor and Council or appointing authority with the exception of any periods of earned vacation of less than one week.

Compensation Cited
In event of death, resignation, furlough or discharge, an employee or his or her dependents, will be entitled to compensation for that portion of vacation earned in the previous year and not used.

In connection with the ordinance, council approved a charter amendment, resolution today which repeals and reenacts certain sections under the subtitle "Civil Service—Police and Fire."

Under the proposed change, a member of the police force would be granted a leave of absence with pay not less than two days each week to be designated by the chief of police and allowed a leave of absence with pay on account of sickness not to exceed 15 working days in one year.

Any member of the police force would be allowed to accumulate unused sick leave from year to year up to 60 days and can use the same for sick leave at any time.

Copies To Be Posted
Any officer or member of the Police Department injured or disabled in the performance of duty, would receive full compensation for one year if unable to perform his duties and in addition be entitled to all medical, hospital and surgical expenses resulting from the injury or injuries.

Under the city's home rule bill, copies of the resolution must be posted 40 days, or until December 20. If no petition for a referendum on the change is filed within that time, the resolution will automatically become effective on December 30; the same day as the vacation ordinance.

K. S. McKee Speaker For Ridgeley PTA's
K. S. McKee, dean of Potomac State College, will speak on "An Evaluation of American Education" at a combined meeting of the elementary and high school PTA's in Ridgeley on Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Damage Case Removed To Hagerstown
A damage suit brought by a Cumberland couple against the B&O Railroad Company and the Real Estate Improvement Company of Baltimore City has been moved to Washington County for trial in Circuit Court at Hagerstown.

W. Earle Coby, attorney for George and Frances C. Reuschel, said the suit was docketed in Circuit Court here some time ago and has been removed on motion of defense counsel, William A. Gunter.

The Reuschels were suing on claims of a breach of covenants in deeds to several properties in Frazier Place Addition.

The railroad is building yards in the area and the Reuschels claim the deeds to their properties carry covenants against any commercial buildings in the addition.

Police Search For Iser In Romney Area
Maryland and West Virginia authorities today concentrated their search for Howard M. Iser, 37, who escaped the Allegany County Jail last week, in the Romney section.

The search in nearby Romney resulted after a Fort Ashby motorist informed police he picked up a hitchhiker late Saturday night who might have been Iser.

Iser escaped the jail last Wednesday along with Robert C. Bryant, 18, of 446 Lamont Street, by sawing bars off two windows and climbing down the rear wall of the lockup.

Bryant gave himself up Saturday, telling local police he and Iser went to Wiley Ford where Iser picked up a .22 caliber rifle, some food and clothes which were hidden there.

The Fort Ashby man informed police he gave a ride Saturday night to a hitchhiker who said he was going hunting. The motorist concluded later it was odd for the man, armed with a rifle, to be starting out hunting late in the day.

The West Virginian also said the hitchhiker also looked like he wasn't dressed warm enough for hunting.

Meanwhile, State's Attorney James S. Getty said the search is being continued throughout the Cumberland area for Iser and indicated escape charges would be placed against the men after Iser is recaptured.

Dairy Farm Projects To Be Planned
Kenneth Felton, an agricultural engineer of the University of Maryland, visited a number of farms in the county today with Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent.

The two went to the Shumaker Brothers dairy farm in Potomac Valley and also to the William Loar dairy farm where plans for building milking parlors will be discussed. Latest designs and other factors in farm buildings will be outlined by Felton to the two dairymen.

A meeting will be held tonight by the Woman's Garden Club with Carl Johnson, landscape specialist at the University of Maryland, as the speaker.

Tomorrow Johnson will inspect the grounds at the Cumberland Free Public Library to determine what landscaping could be done. He will also visit a number of county residences with Miss Mary Wise, home demonstration agent.

The various Homemakers clubs of the county have landscaping as their project this year, according to Miss Wise.

Worker Dies In Accident At Luke Mill

A 32-year-old construction worker was killed this morning in a 50-foot fall at the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The victim was identified as Richard DeWitt, of Morgantown, W. Va., who was working on the expansion program at the Luke mill.

Dr. Robert W. Bess, physician at the paper plant, said the young construction worker was killed instantly in the fall.

He was a son of Mrs. Frank DeWitt, Morgantown. He was unmarried.

Labor Dispute Closes Bakery In Tri-Towns

A dispute at the McIntyre Bakery in Westernport resulted in the plant being shut down today, according to company officials.

A company official said a hearing had been scheduled for November 17 by the National Labor Relations Board to determine the bargaining agent for the employees of the bakery.

Unions which are seeking the right to represent the workers are Local 451, Teamsters, District 50, United Mine Workers, and the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union.

The plant workers and driver-salesmen have been working without a contract for more than six months, according to company officials. The contract which had been in force covering the driver-salesmen was with the Teamsters Union and it was cancelled by the company last January, according to the firm.

The contract with the plant workers was held by the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union and was cancelled last May, it was stated by the company.

The dispute broke out last week and for several days the workers paid no attention to pickets but today the men refused to cross the lines, according to company officials. They said they decided to shutdown the plant today.

There are 26 plant workers and 36 driver-salesmen employed by the Westernport bakery.

County Board Meeting Set Wednesday
Due to Veterans Day falling on Tuesday the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners will be held Wednesday.

One item of business scheduled for Wednesday will be a meeting of the commissioners with Capt. Daniel Biggs of the Salvation Army, Miss Jeannette Bonig, of the Associated Charities and representatives of Red Cross units in county communities on the surplus food distribution program.

It is hoped to start the program next month but officials of some of the agencies which will be registering the eligibles have not received the forms.

The various offices in City Hall will be closed tomorrow as well as state and federal offices and schools will be closed. A six-day division parade will be held over downtown streets starting at 8:30 p. m.

Election Planned By Farm Bureau
Officers of the Allegany County Farm Bureau will be elected at its annual membership meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the LaVale Fire Hall.

Nominated for office are Vernon Loar, incumbent, and Harry Delbrook, president; George Clingman, incumbent, and James Twigg, vice president; Edgar M. Matthews and Jonah Rose, Oldtown District, and Kenneth Smith and D. T. Puffenberger, Little Orleans District, directors.

Walk Light Methods May Undergo Change
Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming will conduct a study of local walk light regulations to explore a change in procedure which would affect all traffic signals.

The Mayor and Council authorized the study today with the understanding Fleming would submit a report as soon as possible. There was no elaboration on the plan at this morning's meeting.

On another police matter, Fleming was authorized to employ Clara E. Crowe as a school crossing guard effective November 6 and to employ two additional guards effective November 13.

Fleming said the number of school crossing guards has dropped from 11 to five with the result that he is forced to detail men from the department to the various school areas during peak periods. As a result, he said, he felt the men lose a half day from their regular duties.

Fleming said that with the guard named today and the two others which were authorized, "We can get by."

Snow Occurs In High Spots Over District

Oakland Receives One Inch; Thomas Gets Smaller Depth

Snow moved into the mountains of the tri-state area last night with one inch being measured in the Oakland section.

Thomas had one-half inch at noon and it was still snowing while flurries were reported in the Frostburg region.

Snow was also falling at noon today in the Deal section.

Started Last Night
Cumberland had spits of rain, but no snow fell.

The snow started at Oakland at 4 p. m. yesterday, according to H. E. Weber, Weather Bureau observer. During the early morning, the low temperature was 31 degrees, but the one-inch covering was beginning to melt this morning.

Thomas had a temperature of 28 degrees just before noon today while Blkins had snow and 32-degree weather.

Cold Weather Due
The forecast for Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties calls for it to be clear and cool tonight with the low between 25 and 32 degrees.

Tomorrow is to see increasing cloudiness and be a bit warmer while Wednesday there is a chance of some showers.

The snow reported today is the first measurable amount this season.

Police Search For Iser In Romney Area

Maryland and West Virginia authorities today concentrated their search for Howard M. Iser, 37, who escaped the Allegany County Jail last week, in the Romney section.

The search in nearby Romney resulted after a Fort Ashby motorist informed police he picked up a hitchhiker late Saturday night who might have been Iser.

Iser escaped the jail last Wednesday along with Robert C. Bryant, 18, of 446 Lamont Street, by sawing bars off two windows and climbing down the rear wall of the lockup.

Bryant gave himself up Saturday, telling local police he and Iser went to Wiley Ford where Iser picked up a .22 caliber rifle, some food and clothes which were hidden there.

The Fort Ashby man informed police he gave a ride Saturday night to a hitchhiker who said he was going hunting. The motorist concluded later it was odd for the man, armed with a rifle, to be starting out hunting late in the day.

The West Virginian also said the hitchhiker also looked like he wasn't dressed warm enough for hunting.

Meanwhile, State's Attorney James S. Getty said the search is being continued throughout the Cumberland area for Iser and indicated escape charges would be placed against the men after Iser is recaptured.

Dairy Farm Projects To Be Planned

Kenneth Felton, an agricultural engineer of the University of Maryland, visited a number of farms in the county today with Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent.

The two went to the Shumaker Brothers dairy farm in Potomac Valley and also to the William Loar dairy farm where plans for building milking parlors will be discussed. Latest designs and other factors in farm buildings will be outlined by Felton to the two dairymen.

A meeting will be held tonight by the Woman's Garden Club with Carl Johnson, landscape specialist at the University of Maryland, as the speaker.

Tomorrow Johnson will inspect the grounds at the Cumberland Free Public Library to determine what landscaping could be done. He will also visit a number of county residences with Miss Mary Wise, home demonstration agent.

When Raymond (Skeets) Holland finished with a 1,000 riding percentage (one mount, one win) at the recent Timonium meeting, he celebrated 30 years as a jockey.

The ageless Skeets, who was winning races before Willie Shoemaker and Bill Hartack were born, officially began his career in 1928 at Cumberland's Fairgo track. In that meet he won on a cheap plater by the name of Bud Bub.

Holland, who was also here in September for Fairgo's 38 meet but didn't ride, recalls that Bud Bub was owned by Joseph Serio, father of the Joe Serio who was among the leading trainers on the Maryland minor circuit this year.

Holland has ridden at practically all eastern tracks, but Timonium remains his favorite. Just to stay faithful in the State Fair oval, he commuted between Baltimore and Atlantic City for two weeks.

Every day during the Timonium meeting, Skeets left his home near Pimlico at 2 a. m. and drove to Atlantic City Race track, arriving "about quarter past five." There he galloped horses for trainer B. M. Price until 9 a. m., when it was time to head back to Baltimore.

"Sure that was my schedule the day I won the first race on Musky Inn," Holland said. "I've gotten used to getting up early and I don't mind it. The driving didn't bother me either."

So, you see, age is a long way from catching up with jockey Holland who is 48.

Racing has been good to Holland and he calls it "the greatest game in the world." He has raised a family of four children and put his oldest son, Raymond, through three years at the University of Maryland.

Skeets never won a stakes race but won some overnight features on a horse called Shiverer.

There's a famous race track story about the time Holland rode Shiverer around Belmont Park's mile-and-a-half oval after having become accustomed to scooting around the sharp turns of the Maryland halfors.

Shiverer won the Belmont race and afterward owner Janon Fisher asked: "Skeets, how did he go around the turn?" The rider quickly said: "What turn, Mr. Fisher? I didn't see any turn."

Holland claims Sonny Workman to be the greatest rider he ever rode against but adds: "Freddie Booker was the best colored rider of my time. He rode as much like Workman as Sonny did himself."

Several weeks ago, The Evening Times ran a story announcing the appointment of Harding Monroe as tennis coach at Frostburg State Teachers College in which it was reported the sport would be conducted on an intercollegiate basis in the Mountain City for the first time. . . . # Ten Horses To Run In International Tomorrow

Irish Champ Ballymoss Regarded As Top Favorite

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — Ballymoss, undisputed champion of Europe, gained increasing support today for the $100,000 Washington, D.C. International, with the possibility that the odds on the Irish colt will be hammered down to even money by post time Tuesday.

Ballymoss' reputation as a runner had preceded him to this country and now that he has been here in the flesh for three days, horsemen agree that the fine-looking colt has the appearance to go with his impressive record.

Ten Horses To Run

Ten horses from seven nations will run in the race with Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Clem, three-time conqueror of Round Table, and Mrs. Herbert Herff's Tudor Era, an English-bred who has been racing in America for three years, defending the U.S.A.'s prestige in the mile and one-half race over a turf course.

Post positions for the International, worth $70,000 to the winner will be drawn today.

Ireland and Russia each will have two horses in the turf classic. Sharp also carries Ireland's green while Garnir and Zaryad, the first steeds from the Soviet over to race in America, represent the U.S.S.R.

German Horse Entered

Tharp is owned by Carleton H. Palmer of New York and is designed to remain in America as is Sailor's Guide, Australia's hopeful owned by A. C. Dobb and his son Keith.

Rounding out the field will be Baron Henry Thyssen's Orsin from Germany; Dr. Erwin Wassermann's Revogue from Argentina; and Alfredo Lechin's Describano from Venezuela, the last horse invited to the race and the last horse to appear on the scene. He arrived by plane from Caracas Saturday.

The race will be telecast on tape and shown by NBC-TV from 4:30 to 5 p. m. e. s. t.

7,000 To See Fullmer Fight Miceli Tonight

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Bull-necked Gene Fullmer and converted soupaw Joe Miceli met here tonight in a scheduled 10-rounder in which family pride and honor and a ring reputation are at stake.

The grudge match pitting Fullmer, the world's former middleweight titleholder, and Miceli, a veteran who will be making his 100th last as a pro, will take place at the Salt Lake Fairgrounds Coliseum. A crowd of 7,000 is expected to see the clash which is scheduled to get underway at 9 p. m. m. s. t.

The fight looms as another big gamble for Fullmer, the number two ranked middleweight, who has been writing a long time for another crack at the title he once held. Miceli, although unranked, is considered a dangerous opponent.

Fullmer accepted the fight in an effort to even the score against the New Yorker, who kayaked Gene's younger brother, Jay, five months ago at West Jordan, Utah. The loss is the only one on Jay's record.

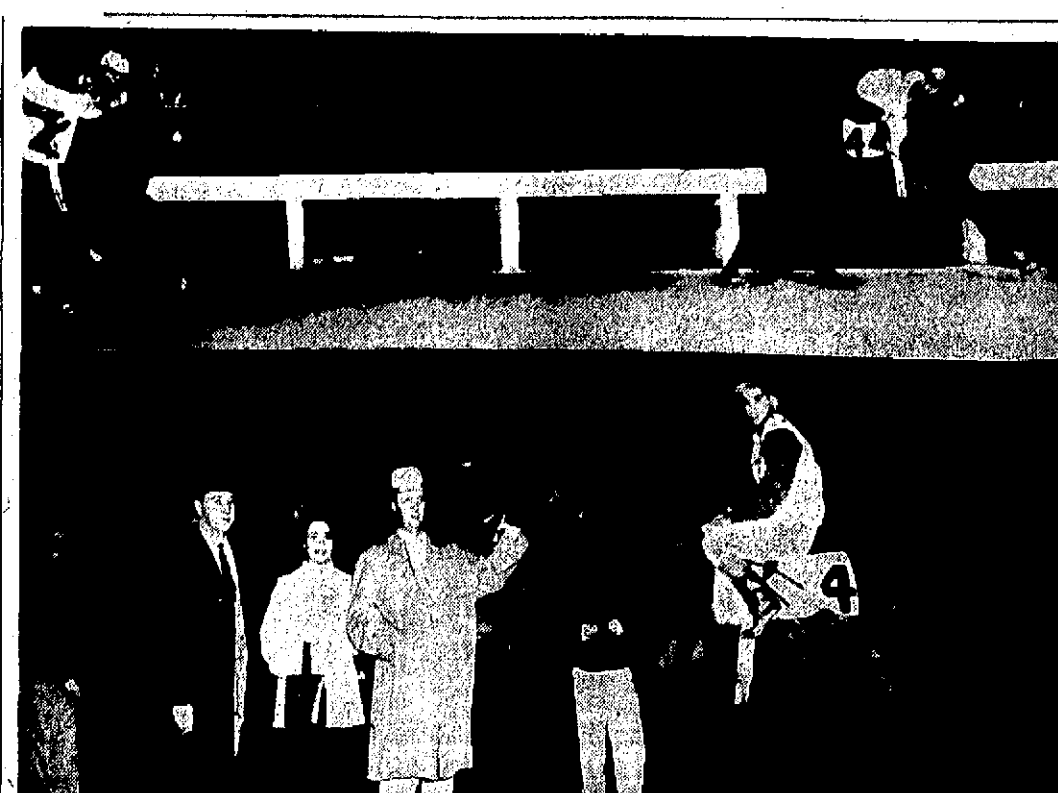

Miceli allegedly commented after the fight that he would take on any member of the Fullmer family and Gene immediately accepted the challenge.

WINNINGEST HORSE OF 1958—Early Bull, consistent son of Eternal Bull, who finished second only to the great Round Table in the number of victories last year when he won 13 races, became the winningest horse in the country Friday night at Wheeling Downs. The eight-year-old gelding is being held by his owner and trainer, Herb Jolley, after making it to the winners' circle for the 11th time this year. He was ridden by Francisco Saumell, America's fourth-ranked jockey. Others in the photo are Mrs. Jolley and John Murphy, a lieutenant in the Wheeling Police Department and a long time friend of the Jolleys. Shown in the finish of the race behind Early Bull are Judge Mac (5) and Bright Diamond (8) on the rail.

Campbell Breaks Own Speed Mark With 248 MPH

CONISTON, England (UPI) — Donald Campbell of Britain, overcoming the handicap of a stalled engine, today cleared his jet-powered Bluebird to a world water speed record of 248.82 miles per hour.

Campbell bettered his old mark of 239.07 m. p. h., set on Lake Coniston Nov. 7, 1957. His new record was announced by the official timekeepers after Campbell spent a nerve-racking period waiting for the verdict, based on the compilation of the average of two runs.

Rams Retain Title Chance

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Shepherd College has a good chance of winning the 1958 West Virginia Conference football championship.

The see-saw race between the Rams and Glenville tipped the Pioneers' way over the weekend when Wesleyan and Fairmont came through with wins. Glenville had beaten both clubs while Shepherd had tied Fairmont.

Although both Glenville and the Rams had completed their schedules, neither will be able to claim the crown until after the season is over this weekend.

Unofficial ratings by United Press International show that Glenville had 115 points to 114 by Shepherd. The Rams led last week 113-102.

Two league games are on tap Saturday. West Virginia Tech is at Virginia State and Bluefield State is at West Liberty. Marietta, Ohio, is at Bethany in a non-league contest.

Shepherd would become the champion by one point if Tech and Bluefield State emerge victorious. Glenville will take a half point by less than a point if Tech and West Liberty triumph. If Bluefield State and W. Va. State win, Glenville will be the 1958 titleholder.

Under the rating system, a winner gets 100 points for each win and five points for each tie. The total is then divided by the number of league games played.

DORTMUND, Germany — Erich Schoopner, 175, Germany, stopped Chuck Spiser, 174, Detroit, five.

Russian Hits Keynote For International

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russian Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov lifted his glass and proposed a toast.

"May the best team be the winner whatever country it belongs to."

The toast about summed up the friendly attitude of owners, trainers, jockeys and government representatives of the seven countries which have horses in tomorrow's $100,000 Washington, D.C. International at nearby Laurel, Md.

"The significance of this sport competition," Menshikov told the dinner gathering last night, "is that today more than ever we need more real cultural exchanges to define the lack of understanding among each other."

The ambassador said he felt sure the International — a mile and a half test on grass — would exhibit a "real spirit of sportsmanship and a desire to improve horse racing."

Russia, with two entries among the 10 horses due to start, is competing for the first time in the seventh renewal of the classic.

Vice Marshal William Hely of Australia's Joint Service Staff noted that his country learned international sportsmanship while playing host to the Olympics and expressed the hope the race would achieve the same goal.

Alejandro Orsila, Argentine charge d'affaires, said the race is "proof of the right to better understanding and knowing each other." He said acceptance of an invitation to compete represented a "desire of Argentina to be closer to the United States."

Dr. Alirio A. Parla, Venezuelan consul, told the group horse racing has practically become the national sport of his country. He said he hoped Venezuela could repeat its 1955 victory in the International.

Other speakers included Irish Ambassador John Herne and Robert Borschardt, press secretary of the German embassy.

Ham Richardson Wins Jap Singles

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — American Davis Cupper Hamilton Richardson today won Japan's men's singles tennis championship by beating his teammate Alex Olmedo, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

Richardson was the third foreigner in tennis history to win the Japanese singles crown.

Terry McElfish, leading scorer in the circuit, accounted for 20 of coach Bob Mattingly's team's 26 markers yesterday with three touchdowns and a pair of conversions. He now has 49 points with seven TDs and seven extra points in three games.

O'Toole had the other six-point play for the Dutchmen while Van Horn made the lone tally for St. Patrick's.

A 20-yard pass from McElfish to Charles O'Rourke, who advanced to the four, paved the way for the first SS. Peter and Paul score. On the next play McElfish sprinted into the end zone.

O'Toole intercepted a pass and ran 25 yards for the second touchdown in the third quarter. McElfish's plunge for the point made the score 13-0.

St. Patrick's score was chalked up in the same period on Lance's five-yard pass to Van Horn.

McElfish galloped 28 yards for his second touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

West Virginia Can Take Southern Title Saturday

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Four conference championships and as many as three bowl bids may be clinched next Saturday when the college football season builds toward its grand climax with renewals of old, upset-filled rivalries.

Iowa, the nation's No. 1 team, already has won the Big Ten's Rose Bowl berth and Louisiana State, Oklahoma and Clemson need only victories next Saturday to be "in" on the bowl gravy. LSU is gunning for the Southeastern Conference's Sugar Bowl invitation while Oklahoma and Clemson may meet in the Orange Bowl as champions of the Big Eight and Atlantic Coast Conferences.

In addition, West Virginia can clinch the Southern Conference title by beating William and Mary while a meeting between Dartmouth and Cornell, each 4-1, is expected to produce the Ivy League champion although Princeton, also 4-1 and playing Yale, still is in strong contention.

Two conference races—the Pacific Coast and the Southwest Conference—are thoroughly mud-died and probably won't be straightened out until Nov. 22. California (4-1) is the current leader in the PCC, with Washington State (5-2) and Oregon State (4-2) challenging. In the Southwest, Texas Christian and Rice are tied for first place with 3-0 marks and should still be tied when they oppose each other Nov. 22. Rice plays Texas A&M (1-3) next Saturday while TCU has a somewhat tougher assignment against Texas (2-2).

LSU, second-ranked and a 50-0 victor over Duke Saturday night, still has powerful challengers for the Southeastern title in Auburn (4-0-1) and Mississippi (3-1) but undoubtedly will clinch the Sugar Bowl bid by beating Mississippi State next Saturday. Auburn is ineligible for bowl competition and LSU has beaten Mississippi.

Oklahoma is expected to have little trouble beating Missouri which routed Colorado, 33-9, last Saturday but has been beaten three times while Clemson will be a strong pick over five-times-beaten North Carolina State.

Syracuse and Pittsburgh, the Eastern independents with high bowl hopes, have relatively easy assignments. Syracuse, which crushed Boston University, 42-0 Friday night, can probably reproduce that score six-times-beaten Colgate and Pittsburgh, which nipped Notre Dame, 29-26, Saturday, will also be a top-heavy pick over Nebraska, 1-4 in the Big Eight and 2-6 overall.

Other games which will attract national interest next Saturday include Iowa vs. Ohio State and Northwestern vs. Purdue in the Big Ten; Georgia vs. Auburn and Georgia Tech vs. Alabama in the Southeast; Southern Methodist vs. Arkansas in the Southwest; plus Army vs. Villanova, Notre Dame vs. North Carolina, Boston College vs. Boston University, and Rutgers vs. Quantico Marines. Rutgers, the only major perfect record team besides LSU, defeated Lafayette, 10-0, Saturday despite the loss of ace tailback Bill Austin.

Iowa scored a workmanlike 28-0 triumph over winless Minnesota as Willie Fleming ran 48 and 63 yards for touchdowns and Randy Duncan passed for two more tallies, but second-ranked LSU, third-ranked Army and fourth-ranked Auburn turned in more eye-catching wins than the top-ranked Hawkeyes.

LSU felt behind, 6-0, in the first period but then pulled out all the stops as Warren Rabb passed for two touchdowns and set up a need only victories next Saturday to be "in" on the bowl gravy. LSU is gunning for the Southeastern Conference's Sugar Bowl invitation while Oklahoma and Clemson may meet in the Orange Bowl as champions of the Big Eight and Atlantic Coast Conferences.

Beightol's won in the extra heat by outgunning the losers in four downs. A 40-yard pass from Bruce Lynn to Souders provided the difference.

Baker's All Stars won their first game in three tries in the American Division by running over winless Liberty Trust, 35-0, at Post Field.

Pitt Victory Called Best In Stadium

By JOHN CARROLL
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—There's no telling what the reading was on the Richter scale, but Saturday's earth-shaker between Pitt and Notre Dame sure left 'em shaking.
In what was one of the most exciting—if not the most exciting—game ever played in Pitt Stadium, the two old rivals battled right down to the final whistle before the Panthers walked off with a suspense-filled 29-26 victory.
This one had just about everything. It had brilliant line play, incredible passing, fumbles, interceptions and penalties galore.
For 60 minutes of solid football, Pitt Stadium became "Cardiac Cavern" for 55,330 wide-eyed fans—not to mention the countless thousands who "sat in" on the eastern regional telecast.
The game started with a flurry of passes and it ended that way, the final one a 45-yarder from Irish quarterback George Izo to halfback Red Mack that carried to the Pitt 15 as the final whistle sounded.
Frank Merriwell Finish
Eleven seconds earlier, Pitt quarterback Bill Kaliden of Homestead, Pa., has streaked into the end zone on a five-yard, fourth-down run for the winning touchdown.
Norton Seaman's third conversion of the afternoon went practically unnoticed as the fans went screaming mad.
One of 11 fumbles committed by the two teams opened the scoring dam in the second period when guard John Guzik recovered Izo's fumble on the Notre Dame one-yard line. Halfback Dick Haley got the touchdown off right guard and quarterback Ivan Tomic then passed to end Art Gob for the two-pointer.
A pass interception about three minutes later led to another Pitt touchdown with Haley again doing the honors on a two-yard run. Seaman's kick made it 15-0 Pitt, but the Irish struck for two quick touchdowns to narrow the margin to 15-14 at halftime.
In the second half, the Irish went in front, 20-15, trailed 22-20 and then led again 26-22 with time running out. That's when Kaliden came off the bench and directed the Panthers 73 yards in 14 plays before applying the clincher himself with 11 seconds left on the clock.
Izo Was Magnificent
Even in defeat, Izo, the "long ball" thrower from Barborton, Ohio, was magnificent. He figured in all of Notre Dame's scoring, passing to Monte Siskies for the first two Irish touchdowns, sneaking for the other two and passing to Nick Pietrosante for his team's only conversion.
Izo, a junior, attempted 26 passes and completed 18 for 332 yards. One of his heaves—into a stiff wind—carried 58 yards in the air to Mack for an overall 72-yard pass-run play that set up Notre Dame's final score.

Rousing Win Makes Navy King In State

By The Associated Press
Navy's midshipmen have set themselves up as king of the hill in Maryland football, thanks in no small part to a powerful sophomore speedster named Joe Matalavage.
The 196-pound halfback, starting a contest for the first time in the Maryland game at Baltimore Saturday, led the Sailors to a smashing 40-14 victory.
Scores Twice
Matalavage scored two touchdowns—on a 36-yard run and a plunge—and became Navy's rushing leader with 196 yards. His 34 points also are high for the well-platoon squad of Eddie Erdelatz.
On Saturday, he ran through the Terps for 102 yards in 10 carries, or 18 more than the entire Maryland team.
Matalavage was replacing Ray Wellborn, who rode the bench with an injury, and it may be Wellborn will find it tough to get his former assignment back.
Navy's decisive triumph was the first for an Erdelatz-coached team over the Terps since the Midlandies in 1950-52 under former Coach Jim Tatum.
Play GW Next
The midshipmen should find a breather in George Washington at the capital on Saturday. After that, Navy has an off-date prior to the big clash with Army Nov. 29.
Three other state teams won gridiron games Saturday, all of them by convincing shutout margins.
Johns Hopkins defeated Swarthmore, Pa. 24-0; Morgan State buried Virginia Union 69-0 and Maryland State turned back Delaware State 44-0.
The other state college team, Western Maryland, dropped a 27-26 homecoming game to Lycoming, Pa. It was only the third homecoming loss in 65 years for the Green Terrors of Westminster.
This week Johns Hopkins will be host to Dickinson (Pa.), Maryland State will entertain Elizabeth City and Morgan State will play Hampton (Va.) at home. Western Maryland will travel to Philadelphia to meet Drexel.

Colts Block Better Than Browns, Says Giant Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—"Now," said Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York football Giants jestingly, "I suppose Pittsburgh will come along and beat us."
"It could happen," he added soberly, "they've got a real good ball club."
Howell's large young men had just eked out a 24-21 decision over the previously unbeaten Baltimore Colts in a bruising battle before a record New York pro football crowd of 71,163 at Yankee Stadium yesterday. The throng included a large and noisy delegation from Baltimore.
The big coach was particularly pleased as the victory put the Giants in a tie with the Cleveland Browns, whom they upset a week ago, for the Eastern Conference lead in the NFL.
The natural question was how he compared the Browns and Colts, and he had definite ideas.
"The Colts block better and have better receivers, as well as speed," he said. "I think Cleveland's secondary defense is better, but the line is not quite as good."
"We made fewer flaws defensively against the Browns, I would say. As to comparing Alan Ameche of the Colts and Jimmy Brown of the Browns, I still think Brown is the better ball player, although Ameche is very good."
Howell had only admiration for the Baltimore coach, Weeb Ewbank, for going all out to win in the waning minutes instead of trying for a tying field goal.
Ewbank explained that decision himself.
"It would have been a 47 or 48 yard field goal," he said of the fourth down and four-to-go situation. The chances of completing a pass are much better than they are of making a field goal from that distance, so we went for the pass."
Ewbank, giving due credit to the Giants, said "we can't blame anybody but ourselves" for the defeat. He spoke admiringly of the remarkable catch the Giants' Kyle Rote made in the end zone in the third quarter. "But we'll bounce back," he said positively as he left the dressing room.
Charley Maxwell of the Detroit Tigers set a major league record by playing 193 errorless games in succession between 1957 and 1958.

Boros' Win Brings Bonus

ATLANTA (AP)—Julius Boros, bolstered by a shot of penicillin, made his return to the golfing world a triumphant one Sunday by winning the Atlanta Open.
The muscular "Moose" from Mid Pines, N.C., had complained earlier in the tournament of illness and considered dropping out. But the penicillin injection returned him to winning shape.
The victory was worth $8,500—$3,500 for first place and a $5,000 bonus for being a repeat winner. He is the first to claim the bonus in the six-year history of the tournament.
Boros went into the final round with a two-stroke advantage. He fired a 38 on the front nine, but lapped in two birdies on the backstretch to slave off a determined bid by Billy Casper Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif. Boros finished with 284, Casper 285.
Casper's second place finish earned him $2,300.
Bill Collins, unheralded Baltimore pro, captured third place with a 287. Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., tied for fourth with par 288s.

Tapping

coach Johnny Michelosen, in talking of that spine-tingler with Notre Dame Saturday at Pittsburgh, felt that Army is a better team than the Irish, although all declared that George Izo's passing was the best they had seen.

Weekend Tourney Won By Geppert

A straight handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club over the weekend was won by Bill Geppert who posted an 89-17-72.

Those with flags on par three holes were: Nos. 1 and 6—Bert Mason. No. 10—Clifton Van Roby. No. 12—Dr. Paul Castelle. No. 15—John Wilson.

NFL Race Opened By Baltimore Loss

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International
The New York Giants have run out of undefeated opponents, the National League division races are wide open and the turnstiles are spinning like propeller blades.
That's the NFL situation today with five weeks remaining, and Coach Jim Lee Howell's Giants are the team the other top clubs are cheering and cursing.

The Giants' shatter'd Cleveland's five-game victory streak Nov. 2 and Sunday they upset the Baltimore Colts, only team to reach the halfway mark in the campaign with a perfect record, 24-21.
New York's victory before 71,163 at Yankee Stadium, largest crowd ever to see a pro football game in the big city, enabled the Giants to tie the Browns (both 5-2) for first in the Eastern Division. It also cut the Baltimore (6-1) margin over the Chicago Bears (5-2) to one game in the Western race.
Pat Summerall's 28-yard field goal with 2:40 to go provided New York's victory margin after Sam Huff of the Giants stole one of George Shaw's passes.
Lions Upset Browns
The Detroit Lions gave New York a vital assist by upsetting the Browns before 75,563 at Cleveland, 30-10. The Bears took advantage of New York's triumph by whipping the Green Bay Packers, 24-10.
The Rams crushed the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 56-7, before 95,082 at Los Angeles; Bobby Layne's four touchdown passes sparked the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 31-24 victory over the Eagles at Philadelphia, and Eddie LeBaron's five touchdown passes paced the Redskins to a 45-31 victory over the Chicago Cardinals at Washington.
Sunday's action produced an NFL six-game attendance high of 342,734, bettering the record of 285,000 set last week.
Shaw, playing quarterback in place of the injured John Unitas, threw touchdown passes to Lenny Moore and Ray Berry to give the Colts a 14-7 halftime lead.
But Charley Conerly, 38-year-old quarterback hero of New York's second half rally at Cleveland, made it 14-all with a 25-yard pass to Kyle Rote. Conerly then directed a 57-yard march and ran interference as Frank Gifford swept 13 yards around end to give the Giants a 21-14 third period lead. Shaw completed a four-yard scoring pass to Moore early in the final period and had the Colts on the New York 23 when Huff made his key interception.
Tobin Rote threw touchdown passes to Jim Gibbons, Howard Cassidy and Gene Gedman as the Lions extended their domination over the Browns. Cleveland now

Celtics, Hit By Injuries, In Last Place

By The Associated Press
The Boston Celtics bolted away to a whirlwind start last year easily to wrap up the Eastern Division title of the National Basketball Assn. But it's an entirely different story this season.

The Celtics, humpered by a foot injury to star Bob Cousy, bowed twice over the weekend for their third defeat in five outings. In 1957-58, Boston won its first 14 games and didn't lose its third until the 22nd start.
This season the Celtics are resting in last place with New York, Syracuse and Philadelphia leading them at this early stage.
Boston lost to Detroit 136-133 in a nationally televised game Sunday afternoon. This came on the heels of an 87-84 setback at the hands of the St. Louis Hawks Saturday night.
Syracuse completed a weekend sweep with a 101-97 conquest of the Minneapolis Lakers Sunday night after topping Philadelphia 103-98 Saturday.
The Warriors, however, regained winning ways by bowing over hapless Cincinnati 106-92 Sunday. New York remained atop the Eastern Division with a 108-100 triumph over Minneapolis Saturday to boost its record to 5-1.
A 45-point scoring harvest by Gene Shue sparked Detroit over Boston. She collected 16 points in the second quarter as the Pistons moved to a 79-55 halftime bulge.
Johnny Kerr sank a hook with two minutes left to put Syracuse ahead and then converted a pair of free throws against Minneapolis.
Ronkie Elgin Baylor starred for the Lakers with 34 points.
Paul Arizin, the jump-shooting specialist found the range for 42 points—26 in the first half—for the Warriors against the Royals.

John McFarland Wins First Flight Crown

John McFarland won the first flight fall golf championship at the Port Cumberland Golf Course with a 71 to nose out Bob Pence by a stroke. Pence, who posted a 72, had won the first flight title in the spring tourney.
Ronnie Slough shot a 74 to finish in third place, three strokes back.

Feeble Insults Fail To Click As Comedy

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Ed Sullivan took the evening of Sunday night and let a group of other performers do the pointing.

In place of his regular CBS-TV show, Sullivan presented a one-hour tribute to himself by the Friars Club, a greasepaint-framed, taped last September as a test run for a proposed TV series which failed to make it.

Sunday night's hour was a mixture of plus and minus. The plus goes for the brisk pace of the show and for some of the individual gags, notably the presentation of a portrait of Steve Allen to the Sullivan. Also in the show's favor was the general atmosphere of disrespect for the guest of honor. Railery, unfortunately, is in too short a supply nowadays.

But curiously enough, the minus side of the show stemmed from the credit side. It seems to be an assumption among what has come to be called the Lindy's comic that boorishness is a substitute for wit. Jack E. Leonard, Jack Carter and Morry Amsterdam were three of the offenders in this respect Sunday night, particularly Leonard.

Insult can be very funny, but too often the Lindy's comic is merely rude. He leans on formula in his insult. He is like Pavlov's dog responding to certain stimuli with pattern replies.

Thus Sunday night there were interminable rounds of feeble insults about Sullivan's somber mien and his lack of performing ability. "You're looking fit, Ed—what do you hear from the autopsy?" is a typical example of this sort of thing, the sort of obviousness that passes for humor among schoolboys.

Another fault of the show—and this is my principal minus—was its static quality. It all seemed a little primitive, flat and without movement. Too, the performers played in the Friars' audience instead of the audience at home. As a result, the TV viewer had a feeling of being outside the proceedings, a looker-in, an uninvited guest.

Short Shots: Esther Williams' role Sunday on NBC-TV's "Omni-bus" was chopped severely and it was all to the good—the short

After 20 Years Percentage Pays

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
My old friend, Walter Malowan of New York, is a firm believer in percentage play. Twenty years ago I saw him go down on a hand when he lost a trick to a doubleton jack of clubs. The other day at the Regency Club in New York I watched him get that trick back when the jack of clubs showed up in the hand with the long clubs.

Walter ducked the first diamond, but had to win the second. West discarded a heart. Walter continued by playing out four rounds of spades. Every one discarded a heart on the last spade lead.

The heart discards by West and South were correct. East's heart discard was a bad mistake since it gave Walter a sure count of the hand.

East had started with six diamonds, and three spades. Obviously, he also held the ace of hearts so the low heart discard indicated at least two hearts in his hand. In that case, he could not have started with more than two clubs.

Walter took his king of clubs; led his other club and finessed dummy's ten. If East had shown up with the club jack Walter would have lost the rest of the tricks and been down three, but this time the percentage play worked and he chalked up game, rubber and an overtrick. If he had played a high club he would have been down one.

Road Deaths
Total Seven
On Weekend

1936 Highway Toll
In Maryland Up
To 419 Fatalities

By The Associated Press
Seven persons died in Maryland traffic accidents during the weekend, increasing the 1936 toll to 419. The figure for the same date a year ago was 485.

In only one fatal accident during the weekend was more than one car involved and in that case a parked car was struck by a moving vehicle near Largo in Prince Georges County.

Fatally injured in the Saturday crash were Herbert White, 40, of Capitol Heights, and Mrs. Mary Brooks, 40, of Glenarden. They were sitting in a parked car just off Landover Road.

Three other weekend victims were fatal: injured when vehicles overturned, two more died after cars struck utility poles and a 4-year-old boy was killed by a truck backing into a street. The victims included:

Kenneth L. Gordon, 24, of Riverdale, killed early Sunday when a car crashed into a pole at Morningstar. Three passengers were severely injured.

The ensemble in this musical legend performs in a manner to accent the pathos, the dignity and some of the earthy qualities that characterized the rural population of Civil War days. Mrs. Peggy Mackert assisted in training two of the dance sequences. Lillian M. Welner and Marjorie Taylor Berkley handled the overall choreography; Alton Hoenopgardner is stage manager; James Duffy did the scenery, and the lighting is under the direction of Edward Lester, Harold Vance and Marvin Vann. Members of Alpha Psi Omega of Little Theatre are in charge of make-up.

Frostburg State is performing a cultural service to this area in presenting such unusual works combining drama and music, and in doing them with such meticulous care, united with imagination, sensitiveness and understanding.—J.W.H.

Local Driver
Hurt As Car
Strikes Wall

George E. Alkire, 34, of 114 Elder Street, is reported in fair condition this morning in Memorial Hospital where he was admitted yesterday after his car struck a stone wall on Thomas Street.

Hospital attaches today said the man sustained a possible concussion, fractured nose, scalp laceration and multiple abrasions of the head.

Alkire was injured when the car he was driving skidded around the curve just south of the Winnow Street underpass and struck the corner of a stone wall at 42 Thomas Street. The car was badly damaged and the wall was cracked by the impact of the head-on collision.

Police said they found a wallet containing over $500 on the floor of the wrecked vehicle after Alkire was taken to the hospital in a police cruiser.

In a similar accident yesterday an automobile struck the porch of the residence of Robert Williams, 711 Washington Street, causing more than $350 damage to the house and nearly demolishing the car.

The driver of the vehicle then pulled away from the scene of the accident, investigating officer Clarence Valentine said. The officer said the car hit a guard rail on the opposite side of the street, and the driver fled.

Police found the badly damaged vehicle abandoned later on Cumberland Street, the officer stated.

Thomas House, 22, of 222 Springdale Street, has been identified as the driver, Officer Valentine said. He posted $302.90 bond on two motor vehicle charges.

Another man, Howard Davis, 22, of Maryland Avenue, faces motor charges also, the officer said, as the two men apparently were racing out Washington Street when the accident occurred.
